CALL TO WORSHIP

John Dugard
From wilderness places and crowded cities, from mountaintops of vision and valleys of struggle, God calls us together.

We come, trusting that God is still at work among us.

The God who showed Moses the promised land, the God who strengthened prophets and dreamers, the God who called disciples to follow—

—calls us now to worship with courage and hope.

We gather not because the journey is complete, but because God’s promise still unfolds.

Let us worship the Holy One, who leads us forward in justice and love.

“We Praise You, O God”

CALL TO CONFESSION

PRAYER OF CONFESSION

Faithful and merciful God, you have shown us glimpses of your promised future, yet we confess that we often hesitate to move toward it. We confess that we settle for symbols when transformation is required; that we grow weary of justice-seeking when progress is slow; that we protect our own comfort while others bear the weight of injustice. We have accepted inequality as normal, division as inevitable, and silence as harmless. Forgive us, God. Unclench our fear, soften our hearts, and reorient our lives toward your reign of love.
