PASTOR'S COLUMN: A PROFILE IN COURAGE, STRENGTH, AND GRACE

Through the graces of the Eastside Citizens Empowerment Foundation and FHC Deacon Nathaniel Martin, approximately two hundred of us crowded into FHC's Fellowship Hall on a hot August afternoon to hear Dr. Amy Acton explain why she is seeking to be Ohio's next governor.

Many of us remember the moment when Dr. Acton, then the Director of Ohio's Department of Health, went from being an important but largely behind-the-scenes state employee to being one of the most prominent health officials in the nation during the earliest efforts to keep people safe in the emerging COVID-19 pandemic.

What fewer of us knew at the time was the journey that brought Amy Stearns from a childhood of poverty, neglect, and abuse in Youngstown — during one winter, she and her brother slept in a tent after her family had become unhoused — to college, medical school, and her role as chief health scientist and guardian of the health of the people of Ohio.

Those of us who heard Dr. Acton speak in August learned of the importance of relationships, the theme in her talk that she returned to again and again. Even though Dr. Acton worked three jobs at one point to pay her way through medical school, she never succumbed to the myth of the self-made person — that her life, career, and success were her doing. She knew better, remembering the neighbor who would call her and her brother up onto her porch to feed them breakfast on their way to school, the staff at her local public library who provided the first books to enlarge her world, and the teachers in her public schools who saw her potential and supported her efforts to take a path of personal fulfillment through service to others. Her work on behalf of the residents of Ohio was recognized with, among other tributes, a John F. Kennedy Profile in Courage Award as a Citizen-Hero during the pandemic.

This column is not a political endorsement. It is the very brief telling and re-telling of a story of one person who chose to live her life, after a very inauspicious start, by loving God and God's world according to the values of Matthew 25: caring for the wounded, paying attention to the marginalized, and protecting the vulnerable.

"See something, say something" is the slogan encouraging people to report something suspicious. As Christians, we need to enlarge that fear-driven vision to include those rare public figures — as well as plain, ordinary citizens like us — who stand out conspicuously for their love of all of God's world, no exceptions. Dr. Acton is one such stand-out.

Her prominence provides Dr. Amy Acton with the opportunity to leverage her story into a call to others to public service. Those stories are always worth telling and hearing.

Thanks be to God.

Faithfully,

Gene McAfee
Transitional
Pastor

MUSIC MINISTRY

The music ministry continues to be a vital expression of our life together as a church family. Each week, through choir anthems, handbell ringing, and congregational hymns, we are reminded of how powerfully music can carry our prayers, deepen our worship, and bind us together as one community of faith. Music allows us to express what words alone cannot — joy, thanksgiving, comfort, and hope.

This month, we have been especially blessed by the many ways our members have shared their gifts. From our dedicated choir who lift their voices week after week, to the congregation who sing with such heart, each person contributes to creating something greater than themselves. Together, we make music that glorifies God and encourages one another in faith.

Music also continues to be a bridge between generations and cultures in our congregation. Whether through a familiar hymn, a new anthem, or a rhythm that invites us to move, we are reminded that the Spirit works through all styles and traditions to bring us closer to God and closer to each other. In this way, our music ministry is not only a form of worship, but also an act of community-building, helping us to listen, to share, and to celebrate our life together.

Looking ahead, we are excited for upcoming opportunities to make music in new and meaningful ways. We are preparing for World Communion Sunday, when we will share music from around the world in worship as a sign of unity with all Christians. These moments remind us that music is a universal language, connecting us with the global church and with the timeless story of God's love. We will also host the Pickup Choir on October 5. We invite all who would like to come and sing to join us that Sunday for Pickup rehearsal at 10:15am.

We give thanks for every voice, every hand, and every heart that contributes to this ministry. May the music we share continue to lift our spirits, deepen our faith, and strengthen our life together as God's people.

Watch your mail for our Stewardship 2026 mailing, and please reserve your spot for sharing love and fun on November 2:

PICTURES FROM KICK-OFF SUNDAY

On Sunday, September 14, we kicked off the program year with a worship service that included a drum circle. After worship, we went outside to dedicate three new trees — two white oaks and one native crabapple — in honor of 75 years since breaking ground at this location.

Then, we enjoyed an excellent fall festival picnic with great food and great fellowship! Thank you to the Deacons for hosting this event!

FAMILY, YOUTH, AND CHILDREN'S MINISTRY

Children's Programming in October — Tell Me About God!

What is God's name? What is God like? How close is God? Where does God live?

Children's classes (K-6th grade) will explore these questions through age-appropriate stories, games, art, video, and weather-permitting, a nature walk! We'll think about who God is and how God is revealed to us in the Bible and in our lives today.

SAVE THE DATE! Gingerbread House Event Sunday, December 7, at 6:00pm

Our annual event is fun for all ages and a great way to begin the holiday season with family and friends. We supply everything you need – gingerbread, frosting and candy – to create your very own gingerbread house. Cost is $15 per house, and proceeds benefit Family Promise of Greater Cleveland, an organization providing programs and services to local families facing homelessness.

Register and purchase your houses here:

PALESTINE 101

On Sunday, October 5, FHC is excited to welcome the Rev. Addie Domske as our guest preacher. After worship, the Rev. Domske will lead a session, “Palestine 101,” in South Hall. Together we’ll explore themes of justice, peace, and liberation for Palestine, and learn more about the important advocacy work of the PC(USA). We invite you to join the conversation about how our faith calls us to act for peace and justice.

Rev. Domske currently serves as the National Field Organizer for Friends of Sabeel North America. She is an ordained Presbyterian minister, trained movement chaplain, and community organizer. She serves on the board of the Palestine Justice Network, the board of More Light Presbyterians, and is the co-chair of the Hosanna Preaching Project.

PEACE AND GLOBAL WITNESS

Our denomination is lifting up A Season of Peace from September 7 through October 5, when we will celebrate World Communion Sunday. Throughout this season, the Peace and Global Witness Special Offering will be received. By participating in this offering, Forest Hill Church is extending Christ’s peace throughout our community and our world. The pursuit of peace in the name of Christ is part of an active, engaged faith — a witness to what it means for us to be the Church, together. Please consider participating in this offering with the envelopes in the pews or sending a designated contribution to the church. Forest Hill Church will keep 25% of the offering to support peacemaking, justice and reconciliation efforts in our local community. As we gather around God’s global table of peace, let us remember that peace begins with each of us.

JUSTICE MINISTRY COMMUNITY GRANTS

The Justice Ministry works faithfully to steward the money the congregation provides to support community justice work. In the past three years, that work included a new process for the community grant cycle that required greater involvement by you all, the congregation. We requested that you

Also featured are works by Mozart and CPE Bach, music that captures the intimate musical culture that flourished in Martinez’ salon—where Haydn, Metastasio, and even Mozart were regular guests.

EARTH CARE CONGREGATIONS

Earth Care and You

Since Forest Hill Church earned the distinction of becoming an Earth Care Congregation almost fifteen years ago, an Earth Care message has been created most months during the year for the Tower newsletter. Abiding by the mantra of “agitation, education, and advocacy,” these articles have focused on many aspects of caring for God’s Creation. Issues such as recycling, prudent energy consumption, conservation of natural resources, water and land usage, and species conservation have been discussed. In addition, opportunities for cooperation and advocacy with many national and international non-governmental organizations which actively work toward environmental justice have been introduced.

The so-called FHC Earth Care “ministry” has a nominal “membership” of around eleven members, mainly for reporting purposes to PCUSA for maintaining our Earth Care congregation designation. This group exists primarily on paper, but unlike other ministries, we do not meet. Realistically, it is the responsibility of each and every individual Forest Hill member — adult and younger — to be an Earth Care Steward!

It is hoped that these monthly Tower articles have encouraged all members to do their part regarding care for the environment. To this end, I invite each and every one of you to consider writing me a one-sentence environmental action you have conscientiously undertaken recently for Earth Care .

I will publicize several of the replies in the next Tower as an encouragement to all to continue to actively participate in easy personal ways to care for the environment.
